retirement fund, $212,761.79; and the balance being collections for a number of miscellaneous trust and special funds.

The net expenditures on account of trust and special funds during the fiscal year 1921 amounted to $2,315,176.31. Included in this amount were expenditures for the water department, $1,025,660.53; for the policemen's and firemen's relief fund, $169,945.33; miscellaneous trust-fund deposits, $776,465.48; Washington redemption fund, $155,164.78; and teachers' retirement fund, $166,343.72.

CASH BALANCES JUNE 30, 1921.

The cash balance to the credit of the general fund of the District of Columbia in the Treasury of the United States on June 30, 1921, amounted to $7,569,871.39, and to the credit of trust and special funds, $451,920.30. In addition to these amounts balances as shown by the accompanying statements were held to the credit of the disbursing officer of the District of Columbia with the Treasurer of the United States.

The difference between the general fund balance of $7,569,871.39, stated above, and the surplus of revenues of the District of Columbia in the Treasury, referred to in the following paragraphs, is accounted for by the unexpended balances of appropriations of the District of Columbia on June 30, 1921. Provision is made from the revenues for the District's proportion of these appropriation balances, so that the surplus revenues represent moneys belonging to the District in the Treasury over and above all charges.

SURPLUS REVENUES.

On July 1, 1920, the surplus revenues of the District of Columbia in the Treasury of the United States, in excess of all appropriation and other charges against such revenues to that date, amounted to $4,648,666.69.

The revenues of the District of Columbia for the fiscal year 1921, including credits arising from lapsed appropriations, available to meet appropriation charges of that year, amounted to $14,056,676.09, from which the sum of $161,000 was transferred to the credit of the policemen's and firemen's relief fund. This left $13,895,676.09 to meet the District's proportion of appropriation charges for the fiscal year 1921.

The appropriation of the District of Columbia for the fiscal year 1921, payable by the United States and the District of Columbia, amounted to $22,295,960.55. The charge against the District of Columbia under these appropriations totaled $13,383,504.23. The appropriations payable wholly from the revenues of the District of Columbia amounted to $273,436.25.

The revenues of the District of Columbia for the fiscal year 1921, available to meet its charges under appropriations, was $13,895,676.09, against which the total appropriation charges were $13,383,504.23, leaving a balance of revenues of the District of Columbia for the fiscal year 1921 over and above all charges against said revenues for that year of $512,171.86. This amount added to the surplus revenues of the District of Columbia in the Treasury of the United States on July 1, 1920, namely, $4,648,666.69, increased the total of surplus revenues of the District of Columbia in the Treasury on June 30, 1921, to $5,160,838.55. This is merely a temporary increase, however, as the surplus revenues for the fiscal year 1921 have been carried forward and included as a part of the revenue for the fiscal year 1922 and used as an element in fixing the tax rate of $1.82 for that fiscal year.

Under the act of Congress approved June 11, 1878, by the terms of which the present form of Government of the District of Columbia was created, Congress provided that 50 per cent of approved appropriations for the expenses of the government of the District of Columbia should be paid by the United States, and the remaining 50 per cent levied and assessed upon taxable property and privileges in the This arrangement, known as the half-and-half system, continued until June 30, 1920. At that date the District of Columbia had to its credit in the Treasury of the United States surplus revenues amounting to \$4,648,666.69, which amount accumulated under the half-and-half system, and still remains to the credit of the District in the United States Treasury as shown by the books of the District, as well as by the records of the Treasury Department. Under the provisions of the District of Columbia appropriation act, which became effective on July 1, 1920, the half-and-half system was departed from, and for the fiscal year 1921 as well as 1922, Congress provided that appropriations for the expenses of the government of the District of Columbia should be paid 40 per cent from the Treasury of the United States and 60 per cent from the revenues of the District of Columbia. To raise the additional amount required under the District's increased share of appropriations the commissioners were authorized to fix such tax rate not less than  $1\frac{1}{2}$  per cent, nor more than 2 per cent as would be necessary to raise the additional revenue. For the fiscal year 1921, the commissioners fixed a tax rate of \$1.95 on each \$100 of assessed valuation of real estate and tangible personal property, and under the operation of this rate the District collected, during the fiscal year 1921, revenue beyond its needs of more than \$500,000. While this amount is shown in the report for 1921, as augmenting the surplus revenues of the District in the Treasury, this may be considered to be but a temporary condition as the tax rate of \$1.82 for the fiscal year 1922 is estimated to produce approximately \$500,000 less than the amount which the District will require under its appropriation charges for that year, thus offsetting the excess collected in the fiscal year 1921.

BONDED DEBT.

On June 30, 1920, the outstanding 3.65 District of Columbia bonds amounted to $5,481,450. During the fiscal year $565,700 of these bonds were purchased and canceled, leaving the amount of bonds outstanding on June 30, 1921, $4,915,750. The sinking fund assets amount to $3,749,123.02, thus making the net indebtedness of the District of Columbia on June 30, 1921, $1,166,626.98. The District of Columbia has no other form of indebtedness than that represented by its outstanding 3.65 bonds.

ASSESSMENT OF REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY.

The act of Congress approved September 1, 1916, provides that real estate in the District of Columbia shall be assessed every two years. The assessment beginning July 1, 1920, i. e., for the fiscal year 1921, is as follows:

Assessed value of land, $213,785,853; assessed value of improvements, $221,008,933; or a total assessment on real estate in the District of Columbia for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, of $434,794,786. Against this assessment a rate of $1.95 per hundred was levied, making a tax of $8,478,498.33.

For the previous year the assessment amounted to $426,623,630, which, at a rate of $1.50 per hundred, yielded a tax of $6,399,354.45.

The assessment of new buildings amounts to $7,681,975, and additions and improvements to old buildings aggregate $1,822,700, which, together with new gas mains, conduits, railway, etc., assessed for $445,838, make a total of $9,950,513.

From this last total is to be taken amounts for property removed or destroyed $197,200, leaving $9,753,313, and from this last amount the sum of $414,300 for property exempt, leaving as a net assessment (taxable) $9,339,013.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENT WORK.

The amount of special assessment work is set forth in the following statement of special assessments levied during the year ended June 30, 1921.

The assessments for sidewalks, curbing, and alleys are levied under the act of August 7, 1894; assessments for street extensions under various special acts and public act No. 435 approved March 4, 1913; assessments for alleys and minor streets under section 1608, et seq., of the Code of Law for the District of Columbia, and act of March 2, 1907; assessments for small parks under public act No. 435, approved March 4, 1913, act approved July 21, 1914, and the sundry civil act approved August 1, 1914. The assessments of roadways are levied under the act of July 21, 1914, and public act No. 250, approved September 1, 1916; and sewer assessments are levied under act of Congress approved April 22, 1904, and public act No. 245 approved June 5, 1920.

Sewer assessments are levied under two acts—April 22, 1904, and June 5, 1920.

The District of Columbia appropriation bill approved June 5, 1920, provides, among other things, that

The rates of assessment for laying or constructing water mains and service sewers in the District of Columbia under the provisions of the act entitled "An act authorizing the laying of water mains and service sewers in the District of Columbia, the levying of assessments therefor, and for other purposes," approved April 22, 1904, are hereby increased from $1.25 to $2 and $1 to $1.50, respectively, per linear front foot for any water mains and service sewers constructed or laid during the fiscal year 1921.

PERSONAL TAX ASSESSMENTS.

The personal tax levy for the fiscal year 1921 had a grand total of $4,078,849.18, derived from three classes of assessment. First, an amount derived from a levy of 1.95 per cent on household furniture (above $1,000 value), merchandise, jewelry, boats, vehicles, horses, etc., or what is commonly known as tangible personal property; this equals $1,634,973.53; second, from a tax on the gross earnings of banks, trust companies, and public service corporations, or an amount of $1,472,026.91; third, from the tax on moneys and credits, including moneys loaned and invested, bonds and shares of stock, or what is generally known as intangible personal property; this amounts to $971,848.74.

BIENNIAL ASSESSMENT OF REAL ESTATE.

The biennial assessment of real estate which was completed by the three assistant assessors by the 1st of January, 1921, was open to inspection and review from the first Monday in January to the first Monday in June.

YEARLY ASSESSMENT.

Under the act of 1894 (28 Stats., 282), the annual assessment of new structures and additions was completed in July, 1921, and added to the general assessment for the ensuing fiscal year, the total assessment of the new improvements being a little over $9,339,000, as against about $8,600,000 for the previous year.

NUMBER AND CLASSES OF BUILDINGS.

The United States census of 1920 gives the population of the District of Columbia as 437,571. The total area of the District is 69,245 square miles, or 44,316.8 acres. The land area is 39,200 acres and about one-fourth is highly improved.

The number of brick dwellings and stores is 56,000 and about 20,000 frame dwellings. There are 88 hotels, 70 theaters, and 1,000 apartments valued from $20,000 to several million. There are about 3,000 apartments including two-family flats, and 12,000 stables and garages.

The total number of buildings of all classes is less than 90,000.

ESTIMATED REVENUES.

In compliance with the commissioners' order, a committee consisting of the auditor, the assessor, and the collector of taxes prepared and submitted, on August 22, 1921, a statement of the estimated revenues of the District of Columbia (exclusive of the revenues of the water department) for the fiscal year to end June 30, 1923. The estimate is as follows, using a rate of 2 per cent for both realty taxes and taxes on tangible personal property:
